on our part, bring about this

Spectacular Sale of Women's New Winter Coats

Values not due until February—
now, because we took advantage of an unusual market condition. $20

TO get right into the story: The mild weather this winter has left manufacturers with coats on their hands—great quantities of coats. We, gauging conditions, kept our stocks of coats down, and were able to go into the market, take our pick of what manufacturers had on hand, and offer them in a sale more remarkable than any we can remember, at a price so far from their actual value that comparative prices would sound unreasonable.

The coats are of the smartest fabrics and styles created for this season. They are superbly fashioned, splendidly trimmed and finished. You could not do better than to invest your Christmas savings into one of these coats, for the very tag end of the season will see no values to surpass them. The number, we regret to say, is not as great as we wished. We urge you to shop promptly, for to lose this opportunity will be disappointing, indeed. Come early tomorrow.

We give briefly, some details of the coats—but personal inspection alone will suffice to give full appreciation.
